

YOUR SEVEN DAYS

Brilliant reasons to ride this week

1 See the GP at the Shed

MotoGP at the Bike Shed
Where Bike Shed Motorcycle Club, London
When Sunday, March 26, from 6pm
Entry Free
Info thebikeshed.cc

Join the whole gang at the Bike Shed for the first round of the 2017 MotoGP season screened live straight from Qatar. All the action is shown on giant screens in a separate room, so you can shout, cheer and cheer to your heart's content.
We say While sitting at home on the sofa shouting at the TV is enjoyable (particularly when the object of frustration is Piers Morgan), doing it in a group is much better. Even more so, when the burgers are on demand and the beer is on tap.

2 Northern exposure

Manchester Bike Show
Where Event City, Manchester
When Saturday, March 25-Sunday, March 26
Entry £17 (£14 advance)
Info manchesterbikeshow.com

The Manchester Bike Show returns for a sixth year and 2017 should be the biggest and best yet. This year there will be hundreds of new bikes from the likes of Suzuki, Honda, Kawasaki, KTM, Yamaha, Triumph, Ducati, Harley-Davidson, Benelli and CCM.
We say This year should be extra special as Hall 3 hosts the Northern Classic Bike Show, featuring over 750 classics, customs and one-off specials from clubs and individuals.

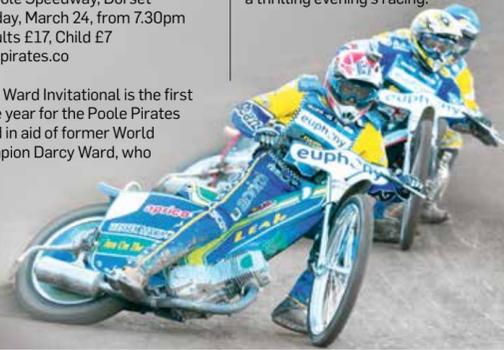

The Manchester show kicks off this weekend

3 Big night on Poole's shale

Darcy Ward Speedway Invitational
Where Poole Speedway, Dorset
When Friday, March 24, from 7.30pm
Entry Adults £17, Child £7
Info poolepirates.co

The Darcy Ward Invitational is the first race of the year for the Poole Pirates and is held in aid of former World U21 Champion Darcy Ward, who suffered life changing injuries in a racing accident in 2015.

We say The Invitational brings together a great collection of elite international riders in what should be a thrilling evening's racing.

4 Ride to great pubs (and a few churches if you fancy)

The Book and Bell Challenge
Where Length of the UK
When Friday, March 24-Tuesday, October 31
Entry £29
Info bikerralliesuk.com

The Book and Bell Challenge is a UK wide rally that involves riding to as many churches and pubs as possible on a list. The challenge runs throughout the year with points awarded for each visit.

We say Anything that gets you out riding is great in our book but ones that take you to places unknown are even better. If you're still pondering how to get started on with the MCN Ride5000miles challenge (see page 14), this could be just the ticket.

Here's a great way to build your #ride5000miles tally

5 'And then my bag caught fire...' it's Nathan Millward

Leeds MAG – an evening with Nathan Millward
Where Squires Cafe Bar, Newthorpe
When Saturday, March 25, from 8pm
Entry £10
Info leeds.mag-uk.org

Stuck in Australia, skint and need to get back to the UK. What would you do? Buy an old Aussie post office bike and ride back? Share in an evening of Nathan's tales and adventures from his book The Long Ride Home.

We say Mishaps seem to follow Nathan wherever he goes. Just last week we met him at an airport to go riding and he turned up with just the clothes on his back, as his bag had caught fire and torched the lot. Might still be a bit soon for jokes.

Postie bike action all the way home from Down Under

7 Scoot down to the Ace

Scooter Sunday at the Ace
Where Ace Café, London
When Sunday, March 26, 9am-5pm
Entry Free
Info ace-cafe-london.com

Sunday is for scooters so expect all kinds of old Italian wizardry from the likes of Vespa and Lambretta. If that's not enough, if you spend over £5 at the counter you'll be entered into a raffle to win tickets to the Jukebox & Retro fair and a copy of the Dr. Martens book.
We say What could make a Scooter Sunday more complete than holding it at the same time as a Raleigh Chopper meet? To top it off, The Ska Faces are playing live.

6 Can you be a Lord of Lydden?

Weekend trackday
Where Lydden Hill Circuit, Kent
When Saturday, March 25, from 9.30am
Entry £120
Info lyddenhill.co.uk

An open track day where any bike is permitted. Do be aware that there is a 100dB noise limit in place that could catch out those with really aftermarket fruity exhausts.
We say Lydden Hill has many claims to fame including being the site of the invention of Rallycross along with being the UK's shortest road racing circuit. Legend has it that when it was

Get yourself down to Kent this weekend being laid in 1962 the circuit was to be longer, but the tarmac ran out at the Devil's Elbow.

Road Watch

By Cambridgeshire County Council

The A14 is devilishly busy at the best of times, so we're widening the carriageway. To do this, we first need to narrow it obviously but don't despair, we'll be finished by 2020.
